PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION
OF SOUTH CAROLINA
CLERK'S OFFICE
NOTICE OF FILING AND HEARING
DOCKET NO. 2010-181-E
APPLICATION OF LOCKHART
POWER COMPANY FOR A RATE INCREASE

Pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. 58-27-860 and 58-27-870 (Supp. 2010), Lockhart Power Company (Lockhart or the Company) filed an application for a general increase in its electric rates with the Public Service Commission of South Carolina (the Commission). Lockhart is a public utility operating in South Carolina, where it is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electricity to the public for compensation. According to the Application, Lockhart currently charges rates approved by the Commission as allowed by Order No. 2007-474 (Docket No. 2007-33-E). The Application reveals that Lockhart has been making investments in its generation, transmission, and distribution systems. Lockhart's return on rate base for its retail operations is 8.45% for the twelve months ended December 31, 2009 the Test Year. Further, the Application states that Lockhart has recently made two significant investments in generation, which will result in a further decrease in its return on rate base.

According to the Application, Lockhart's proposed rates will produce a rate of return on retail rate base of 12.5% during the Test Year after the appropriate pro forma adjustments have been made. Additionally, the Application reveals that the proposed rates will produce an overall increase in retail revenues of 2.51% or a $337,675 annual increase over the present test year retail revenue. According to the Company, Lockhart has designed its rates in a way that will move each customer class toward the average rate of return, while mitigating the impact of the increase on any individual class of customers. The proposed rate revenue average increase to the residential class is 3.22%; commercial class is 4.46%; street lighting is 4.45%; and outdoor lighting is 4.98%. Amount and percentage increases vary by rate schedules within these classes, and individual customer bill increases may also vary depending upon actual usage pattern and amount of consumption. In addition, Lockhart intends to collect from its retail customers during the first month in which the proposed rates are in effect the unbilled revenue resulting from Lockhart's Purchased Power Adjustment Clause, the mechanics of which create a one-month delay in its collection.

A copy of the Company's Application and proposed rates and charges, as well as the proposed terms and conditions of service can be obtained from the Commission at the following address: Public Service Commission of South Carolina, Clerk's Office, P. O. Drawer 11649, Columbia, South Carolina 29211. Additionally, Lockhart's Application is available on the Commission's website at www.psc.sc.gov.

In order for testimony and evidence to be received from all interested parties, a public hearing will be held in the Commission's Hearing Room, Synergy Business Park, Saluda Building, 101 Executive Center Drive, Columbia, South Carolina on Monday, June 27, 2011, at 10:30 a.m.

Autism

ple to simply "accept" the absence of forward progress, Dr. Young believes that this Autism Awareness Month should instead draw attention to:

The fact that despite many years and countless millions of dollars of public contributions toward research for ailments that strike higher percentages of our children than any other, that the international incidences of autism actually continue to steadily rise with no apparent abatement

The realization that despite the chest thumping rhetoric from politicians to make great strides toward real answers for their constituents, the reality is glaringly apparent that next to nothing has been learned or at least contributed to the cause by government in decades

The fact that the medical insurance industry, under its own uncertain challenges and fates, is understandably scared to death about extending coverage for affected families when they see this as a bottomless money pit with no expectations for positive and sustained outcomes

The growing frustration with the largest Autism organizations that form de facto rudders for the directions of research, intervention and treatment, which are now even subject to public protests at fundraising events due to utter lack of any visible positive progress combined with recent discoveries of inordinately high administrative and operational cost ratios that leave mere single digit crumbs returning to the public in the forms of any real help dividends

The 600 pound gorilla in the room that is little spoken about, that for all intents and purposes, the world seems to be silently and effectively casting aside the countless number of current cases of autism as you might with people who are brain damaged or have received genetic short straws, in exchange for quests for earlier detection and short-sighted vaccine research

"I strongly believe that the high majority of the incidences of these and many other psychological and behavioral conditions in both children and adults are being directly caused or at the very least contributed to, by improper food and nutritional choices and other avoidable environmental factors," she said. "I wholeheartedly agree that the trend toward early detection practices is a positive one, but only because catching more childhood cases of these disorders sooner means that specific dietary intervention can be all the more corrective, rapid and lastingly effective."

She added that although there has not yet been a funded clinical study on her work, she has both seen and received back countless confirmations that her dietary protocol is delivering both clinical and family managed results for a multitude of individuals on a consistent basis. Her feeling is that this natural science has yet to attain its full potential in mainstream medicine because instruction on food choices lacks the backing of the multi-billion dollar pharmaceutical industry engine.

"I know that these days everyone and their brother seem to have their own theory about what constitutes proper and improper nutritional practices," she added. "However, in this particular case, I believe that the rapid positive results we're consistently producing are undeniable and self-evident. Not only can we greatly reduce the human and financial costs of future occurrences of these disorders, but using food-based therapies we can also improve or reverse a high percentage of existing cases. Once the research community at large decides to join us, we'll do even better."
