Dear Sirs,

I am writing this letter in protest regarding Docket No. 2011-271-E.

I am 70 years old and live on a fixed income. My feet are very sensitive to the cold weather. The last 2 years it has been so cold I could Hardly walk on them because I had to keep my thermostat on 66 to keep my heating bill so I could afford to pay it and I still had to pay $145 to $129. I live by my self so its not like other people were here. I have ended up having to go to the doctor to get prescription to keep my feet from hurting. I wear 2 pr socks & thick bedroom shoes, but because the thermostat is low, the feet still bother me. Please take into consideration all the people that don't have jobs & have children to keep warm. Also all the senior citizens who so cold so they can afford to pay their electric bill. I hope & pray you turn Duke Power DOWN in their request.

Thank you
Brenda Holbrooks
