Nanette:

Upon review of the copy of the March 7, 2018 letter from Baker Tilly, which outlined, among other things, a proposed scope of services with regard to the SCE&G nuclear matter, it appears that the proposed scope of activities omits a material part of the scope of examination outlined in Commission Order No. 2018-102, dated February 15, 2018. As you may recall, the “Addendum to Motion” section in the Order contained four sets of scenarios for examination, with a total of eight scenarios. In both the text of the “Addendum to Motion,” and in a footnote at the bottom of the page, the directive “Provide with and without resumption of revised rates at a later date” appeared. This directive was shown to apply to each of the eight scenarios listed. Although the eight scenarios appear in the March 7, 2018 letter from Baker Tilly in the Scope of Services section, the crucial directive noted above does not appear anywhere in the letter. I would ask that you please examine this matter. I thank you for your attention, and, further, any corrective action that you could take to assure that Baker Tilly considers this stated directive in its scope of work would be greatly appreciated.
